

Always send from a different address

If you want to always send from another address, you'll need to change both your default "From" and "reply-to" address. If you only change the "From" address, replies will go to your original Gmail address by default.

Change default "From" address

To always send email from a different address or alias:

On your computer, open Gmail.

In the top right, click Settings  > Settings.

Click the Accounts and Import or Accounts tab.

In the "Send mail as" section, select a setting under "When replying to a message."

Change default "reply-to" address

When you send a message, replies will go to your original Gmail address by default. To choose a different address, follow these steps.

1. On your computer, open Gmail.
2. In the top right, click Settings  > Settings.
3. Click the Accounts and Import or Accounts tab.
4. In the "Send mail as" section, click edit info next to your email address.
5. Click Specify a different "reply to" address.
6. Add a reply-to address.
7. Click Next Step.
8. Click Save Changes.

How do I find my aliases?

1. Click on your account profile > "My Account"

2. This will bring up your account profile.

3. Under Personal info & privacy, select “Your personal info”
4. You will see a screen that includes a list of your recognized emails. Select “and more” highlighted below to see a complete list.

