

BEYOND BORDERS: GLOBAL BLACKNESS AND CURRENT EVENTS PRESENTS:

BLACK WOMEN'S REPRODUCTIVE RIGHTS AROUND THE WORLD

Wednesday, December 7, 5:30–7 p.m. via Zoom

REGISTER

form.jotform.com/223255342113141

Please register by 2 p.m. on Wednesday, December 7.

The Africana Studies and Latin American and Caribbean Studies Programs are thrilled to announce a new series, Beyond Borders: Global Blackness and Current Events. This series will focus on expanding conversations around Blackness beyond the United States. In light of the recent Roe v. Wade crisis in the United States, which has sparked discussions about the role of race in conversations around women's reproductive rights, the first event in this series will be a panel focused on discussing Black women's reproductive rights in a global context. The panel will be followed by an open discussion with the audience.

Event Co-Facilitators: Professor Elena FitzPatrick Sifford, Professor Emanuela Kucik

Panelists:

Nessette Falu

Assistant Professor of African and African Diaspora Studies at the University of Texas at Austin

Jacqueline Antonovich

Assistant Professor of History at Muhlenberg College

Sarah Runcie

Assistant Professor of History at Muhlenberg College

Elena FitzPatrick Sifford

Associate Professor of Art History and director of Latin American & Caribbean Studies at Muhlenberg College

Emanuela Kucik

Assistant Professor of English Literatures and Writing and Africana Studies and the director of the Africana Studies Program at Muhlenberg College

We want to thank the following co-sponsors for making this event possible with their generosity and support:

The Office of the Chief Diversity Officer and Associate Provost for Equity & Inclusion; the Office of the Dean of Students; the Office of Equity & Title IX; the Women's & Gender Studies Program

If you have questions, please contact

Elena FitzPatrick Sifford, elenasifford@muhlenberg.edu

Emanuela Kucik, emanuelakucik@muhlenberg.edu

