

Muhlenberg

2023 COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

IN THIS 175TH YEAR OF MUHLENBERG COLLEGE

Sunday, May 21, 2023

Muhlenberg College is a private, independent, liberal arts institution located in Allentown, Pennsylvania, about 55 miles north of Philadelphia. With an undergraduate enrollment of approximately 1,900 students, Muhlenberg is dedicated to shaping creative, compassionate, collaborative citizens through rigorous academic programs in the arts, humanities, natural sciences and social sciences, as well as select preprofessional programs.

Founded in 1848 as Allentown Seminary, the institution was renamed Muhlenberg College in 1867 and began providing a liberal arts education committed to the highest standards of academic integrity and excellence.

Muhlenberg is distinctive among private colleges in offering programs in professional areas such as finance, accounting, business, education, public health and media and communication in addition to the traditional liberal arts majors. The College's curriculum challenges students in all programs to participate in research, community engagement, internships and study abroad options that provide critical experiences in today's rapidly changing world. The outstanding quality of the Muhlenberg academic program has been recognized by Phi Beta Kappa and some 15 additional national honorary societies with established chapters at the College. Muhlenberg recently began offering graduate degrees in applied analytics and organizational leadership.

The College is committed to providing students with powerful opportunities, resulting in lives and careers of impact. The Career Center and The Muhlenberg Network of alumni and parents help students and graduates benefit from their rewarding learning experience through internship and job placement programs. Muhlenberg graduates are prepared to meet their personal definitions of success while continuing to value service to others in ways both big and small.

For the Audience

Members of the audience are requested to stand as they are able for the academic procession and remain standing until after the Invocation. All are invited to join in singing the Alma Mater.

The audience is requested to refrain from applause until all members of the class have received their diplomas. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the audience is requested to remain in place until the academic recession is complete.

We remind the audience to be considerate of others when taking photos. Please silence cell phones to avoid any distractions from the ceremony.

Honors

Degree recipients with outstanding scholastic records are graduated with academic honors. Those exceptional students with cumulative averages of 3.9 or higher (where A equals 4.0) are graduated summa cum laude. If the average is at least 3.7, but less than 3.9, the degree is granted magna cum laude. Those students with cumulative averages of at least 3.5, but less than 3.7, are graduated cum laude.

NATIONAL ANTHEM

Led by Joe Grisanzio '23
“The Star Spangled Banner”

Words by Francis Scott Key; music by John Stafford Smith

*O say can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there,
O say does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?*

INVOCATION

The Rev. Eric C. Shafer '72
Presiding Chaplain and Trustee Emeritus
Please be seated.

ACADEMIC CEREMONY

Academic Dress

The origin of academic dress can be traced to the medieval university, when robes were often necessary for warmth in the unheated halls where scholarly enclaves gathered. Today, the scholar's sweeping black gown has become a ceremonial symbol of academic distinction.

In the United States, formal guidelines for academic dress — known as the Intercollegiate Code — were initiated in 1895 and, following revision in 1932 and 1959, still provide the descriptive guidelines for interpreting ceremonial dress at an academic convocation. By stipulating design and color variations in the ceremonial robe, the code provides a system to distinguish the academic degree, institution and field of study of the wearer.

Degree

The shape and size of the hood and the design of the sleeves indicate the academic degree of the wearer.

- Bachelor's Degree: Pointed sleeves; usually without hood
- Master's Degree: Long, closed sleeves with arm slits; narrow hood
- Doctorate: Bell-shaped sleeves; broad, draped hood

Field of Study

The color of the hood facing identifies the field of study in which the academic degree was conferred.

- Drab: Accounting, Business, Management
- White: Arts, Letters, Humanities
- Copper: Economics
- Light Blue: Education
- Brown: Fine Arts
- Lemon: Library Science
- Pink: Music
- Dark Blue: Philosophy
- Sage Green: Physical Education
- Golden Yellow: Science
- Cream: Social Studies
- Scarlet: Theology

Institution

The color of the lining of the hood denotes the college or university by which the degree was conferred. Examples of degree-granting institutions include:

- Muhlenberg: cardinal and grey
- Johns Hopkins: gold and black
- Lehigh: brown and white
- Penn: red and blue
- Temple: cherry and white
- Yale: Yale blue

The Mace

The tradition of the mace in the academic ceremony is the result of a long evolution, from a short wooden club used in medieval hand-to-hand combat to a symbol of office carried by sergeant-at-arms in royal courts. Today, the mace serves as a symbol of college and university sovereignty. At Muhlenberg it is carried by the Marshal of the Faculty, who, as a function of her office, precedes the College President and Provost in academic procession.

The mace used in today's ceremony was presented to the College in 1966 as a gift of the Allentown Alumni Club and was designed by Allentown silversmith C. Leslie Smith. The center of the mace is a natural grain oak handle. At the top is the Luther Rose, placed there to show the debt the College owes to the Lutheran Church in America. The spurs or spikes are transformed from lethal features to an upward-facing coronet. Four major sets of symbols complete the head of the mace. One plate displays the Seal of the College, the Seal of the Muhlenberg family and a replica of the cross of the College Chapel. Another plate bears dates and places of importance in College history. A third plate features the lamp of knowledge, symbols of the Trinity, again relating the College to the Church, and other symbols representing commerce, medicine, law and the fine arts. The bottom of the mace is finished with an acorn and two oak leaves in silver, which represent the growth and strength of the College. The mace is used at all formal College functions.

CANDIDATES FOR HONORARY DEGREES

CECILIA A. CONRAD, PH.D.

Cecilia Conrad is the founder and CEO of Lever for Change, which last year drove more than $1 billion to nonprofits addressing issues ranging from economic opportunity in the U.S. to climate change to the global refugee crisis. She also serves as senior advisor at the MacArthur Foundation, where she leads 100&Change, a program that periodically makes a single $100 million grant to a project that promises measurable progress in solving a critical social problem.

Previously, Conrad worked as a managing director at the MacArthur Foundation, overseeing the MacArthur Fellows program, and as vice president for academic affairs and the Stedman Sumner Professor of Economics at Pomona College. She served as acting president during the 2012 academic year and in 2002 was recognized as California's Carnegie Professor of the Year. She is a trustee emerita of Muhlenberg College.

GEORGE WHEELER, PH.D. '72

George Wheeler is the former director of conservation in the graduate historic preservation program at Columbia University, following his distinguished 25-year career in the department of scientific research at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City.

The recipient of numerous honors and awards and the author of more than 50 publications, Wheeler is a fellow of the American Academy in Rome, the American Institute for Conservation and the International Institute for Conservation, and is the recipient of the Association for Preservation Technology's highest honor, the Harley J. McKee Award. His conservation projects range from the concentration camp at Auschwitz-Birkenau to Tullio Lombardo's marble sculpture of Adam.

Wheeler majored in physics and art history at Muhlenberg and was selected first team all-conference in football and twice second team all-conference in baseball.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION FUTURE ALUMNI LEADERS

LOUIS COCCO '23 of Sellersville, Pennsylvania, graduates with a Bachelor of Arts in media & communication and business administration.

A dean's list honoree throughout his time at Muhlenberg, he is a brother in the Alpha Phi Omega community service fraternity and spent four years working between the Department of Athletics and the Office of Communications to produce Mule TV's live online broadcasts of Muhlenberg home sporting events. On campus, Cocco was an Orientation leader for three years and served as vice president of the Cardinal Key Society, a student leadership group that bridges the student body and Muhlenberg alumni. Cocco also served as the co-president of the Muhlenberg ice hockey team, an initiative that brought ice hockey back to Muhlenberg. He was also a part of the Muhlenberg Broadcasting Channel, a sports photographer for The Muhlenberg Weekly and a freelance photographer for Muhlenberg sports teams and campus organizations.

Cocco interned in human resources at RWJBarnabas Health, and in social media management, graphic design and content creation at Rowing Ireland in Dublin, Ireland. He also interned and then was employed part-time at The Word 88.9 WBYO-FM in audio production, voicing, community engagement and co-hosting live radio segments.

Following graduation, Cocco will begin a full-time position with WBYO in audio production, music and program scheduling, video production, photography, community engagement and live-radio production.

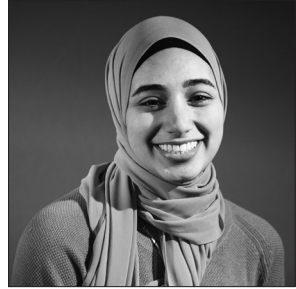

MARYN PRYOR '23 of Santa Rosa, California, graduates with a Bachelor of Arts in accounting and sustainability studies, as well as a minor in business administration.

A dean's list honoree throughout her time at Muhlenberg, she is a member of the RJ Fellows, an honors group at Muhlenberg focused on cultivating leadership and change through engagement with the community. As an RJ Fellow, in partnership with the Office of Community Engagement, she volunteered at Habitat for Humanity, Daybreak, Phoebe Home and several Allentown schools. She served for three years as a pre-orientation leader for the RJ Fellows and was a student representative to the RJ Advisory Board.

On campus, Pryor welcomed potential and incoming students as a campus delegate and was treasurer of Muhlenberg's Environmental Action Team, enACT. She was also a student representative to the Alumni Board for two years and has served as a peer tutor, workshop tutor, student research assistant and student assistant in the Office of Advancement and Office of Corporate, Foundation and Government Relations.

In the summer of 2022, Pryor was a tax intern in Citrin Cooperman's Philadelphia office and will return this fall as a member of the tax staff. Pryor will spend the summer studying for her Certified Public Accountant exam and traveling.

SENIOR SPEAKER

NOUR YOUSRY '23 of Watchung, New Jersey, is a Shankweiler Scholar who majored in public health and minored in anthropology. At Muhlenberg, she served as a crew chief, EMT and the 2022 captain of Muhlenberg College EMS (MCEMS); residential advisor in Brown Hall; co-founder and co-president of HABIBI, the Hebrew-Arabic Buddies Interfaith 'Berg Initiative; co-president of the Muslim Student Association; campus tour guide and campus delegate; a student researcher in the laboratory of Jordanna Sprayberry; a student representative in the President's Diversity Advisory Council (PDAC); a co-founder of the Bridges Interfaith Council; and an inducted member of the Alpha Epsilon Delta (AED) prehealth honor society and Lambda Alpha Rho anthropology honor society.

Yousry's thesis in infectious disease epidemiology, entitled "Microbes Moving Mountains: An Evaluation of How Politics Affected COVID-19 and Public Health," explores the politicization of health care and medicine. Also, in collaboration with Paige Henderson '24 and Professor of Biology and Chair of Neuroscience Jordanna Sprayberry, she recently published a research paper entitled "Fungicide Scent Pollution Disrupts Floral Search-and-Selection in the Bumblebee Bombus Impatiens" in the journal Agrochemicals.

After graduating, Yousry will pursue a graduate degree in health policy and management at Columbia University's Mailman School of Public Health.

SCHOOL OF CONTINUING STUDIES SPEAKER

CHRISTIAN C. JOHANSSON '23 is a computer science major, minoring in chemistry, from Slatington, Pennsylvania. A native of Kristinehamn, Sweden, and Jensen Beach, Florida, he is a former competitive swimmer, competing in the European Junior Olympics and for the state of Florida. Currently, Johansson works as a home health aide.

Johansson's work in coding, software development and artificial intelligence has informed his creation of video games, websites, search engines, a study app and databases. His research as an undergraduate included working with Assistant Professor of Computer Science Hamed Yaghoobian, applying computer science methods to social science inquiry in the field of natural language processing. Their study, "A Peek Into the Correspondences of Walter Benjamin Using BERT," used Google's Bidirectional Encoder Representations from Transformers (BERT) to analyze the evolution of topics and emotions in Benjamin's work.

Following graduation, Johansson will pursue a career in computer science.
